when the mange is only in certain areas, such as around the eyes, the condition is considered localized.

basically if you have no priors you shouldn't look at max sentences because they only impose that if you have a lengthy record or other reasons like that.

that much was demonstrated early on, and remains true to the present moment.